Buying or selling a home – One of the most important decisions of your life!

Consult a REALTOR®!

A REALTOR'S® expertise and experience are invaluable and can guide you through the details of the complicated buying or selling process. In order to be called a "REALTOR®," a licensed real estate professional must become a member of a local real estate board as well as the Canadian Real Estate Association (CREA) and the Ontario Real Estate Association (OREA). When you work with a REALTOR®, you can expect strict adherence to provincial law as well as to a national code of ethics ensuring you'll receive the highest level of service, honesty and integrity. In fact, REALTORS® are governed by the legal concept of "agency". An agent is legally obligated to look after the best interests of the person he or she represents and be loyal to that person. Trademarks owned or controlled by The Canadian Real Estate Association. Used under licence'.
